

SPRING FEVER

UPS & DOWNS

Spring fever makes us all do some pretty weird things. Sometimes it can make up happy, sometimes sad or sometimes just plain screwy!

Following on from last week, we asked a collection of our favourite stars, what turns them on and off, sends them up, or down about spring fever — you won't believe it...

David Cassidy

Downs: The snow begins to melt which means no ski-ing for several months.

Ups: The air seems to come alive with freshness and I seem to get an indefinable feeling of goodness inside. I think it just shows how we, as part of nature, change with the seasons.

Alan Osmond

Downs: No more snow-clearing until next winter!

Ups: Spring nights are romantic the air is still brisk, but the skies are so clear you can watch the stars for hours!

Jackie Jackson

Downs: Spring means Christmas is over and that's my favourite holiday.

Ups: Since photography is one of my hobbies, spring is the time to be outdoors taking pictures. It's fun to show nature in pictures.

Jermaine Jackson

Downs: It's also the end of the basketball season and I like that almost as much.

Ups: Spring means the baseball season and that's great!

Merrill Osmond

Downs: Having to put away the cuddly big sweater I dig so much and wear all winter long.

Ups: Spring means it's time to buy some new summer clothes — and I love to shop!
