WALDORF SALAD

How does a WALDORF SALAD sound? Pick up their LP.

The Williams Twins got to meet some British birds and vice versa.

Hey! The Heywoods have been touring with the Brady Kids. Wow!

OSMOND SCOOPS: THE OSMONDS have sold their house in the Hollywood suburb of Arleta and bought an apartment house in West Los Angeles, but I'm beginning to wonder if it was a wise decision. Osmond fans have already found the new place and have become inescapable since the adode is a rambling one-floor thingy. There's just no getting away from the swarm of girls and I think poor Donny's afraid to get into the bathtub these days for fear fans will come bursting through the window!

World-traveler DONNY spent some time in England with brother AL, accepting awards and doing a telly show or two. He almost couldn't find a hotel which would take his reservation because of all the British Osmonds fans who went with the deal, or would, just as soon as the news was out.

Back home in Los Angeles, the boys have spent a lot of time studying Karate from champion CHUCK NORRIS, and whiled away several afternoons "borrowing" the nearby UCLA athletic field for family football games. Also they've been recording, getting ready for their stint in Las Vegas and their summer tour of America. At this point on the year's calendar, June and July have been set aside for that long-awaited OSMOND movie. The only problem is that there's no script as yet. The boys have turned down two of them so far, and are looking for just the right concept. Ideas, anyone?

The rumor mill has been churning all over the country and maybe the world, grinding out the completely false news that the OSMONDS are moving to England because of bomb threats on their lives. This is absolutely untrue! The OSMONDS have had their fair share of crank calls, but so does every star. Don't believe a word of this silly story!

Believe this though! The OSMONDS have broken the world's record for earning the most gold records in one year. The title was formerly held by my beloved BEATLES who led ELVIS' eight with their nine. In 1972, the OSMONDS totaled eleven goldies!
