

HAPPY VALENTINE

Valentine is a kiss or a tear; it's wishing and hoping to see that special someone; it's waking up with a smile in the morning — it's lots of things. This is our Valentine to you (oops, sorry, we shouldn't have told you) and from a few other people . . . And if any of our Valentine messages are true for you — well, maybe you're in love . . . Have a happy Valentine's Day anyway!

A Valentine is holding hands

A Valentine is squeezing someone's hand in a crowded room

A Valentine is walking together in the rain

A Valentine is sending little notes through the post

A Valentine is blushing

A Valentine is wishing that special someone's wish will come true

A Valentine is wanting to be alone with someone else

A Valentine is buying a present

A Valentine is being together when you miss the last bus
