

Actress Mary Ann Mobley played the publicity director of Kings Island in the show they were filming. In the story Keith was supposed to get a crush on her—and in real life he became good friends with her and her husband, Gary Collins (of TV's The Sixth Sense), who spent most of the week there with her.

Nope, David's not at the beach—he's by the pool at the Kings Island Inn, waiting to shoot a scene.

It's lunch break for the Partridge cast and crew—but David's disappeared! Wait a minute—why are there all those people around the door of the Administration building? You take a peek inside—and there's David, hosting a press conference! You listen for awhile, and realize that those reporters don't know David nearly as well as you do—they're asking him really simple questions that you already know the answers to!

The Governor of Ohio arrived by helicopter one afternoon to give the Partridge Family a special citation to thank them for filming a show in Ohio, and for giving the citizens of Ohio so much pleasure from watching the show the past two seasons.

David's talking to FLIP's Valerie Berger here, but if you wave and smile at him, he'll come over to say hello to you, too. When he wasn't needed for a scene, David often talked to fans and signed autographs!
