TV SCREEN SCENE:

You just can't miss David Cassidy
when he's going places.

Recovery!

If you're collecting aircraft, you'll find this new kit from Airfix an essential part of your collection. The RAF recovery set in 80 scale (the same scale as most model railways) includes a Coles Mk. 7 crane and a special recovery trailer unit. The cost is 35 pence.

Well-dressed Diddy

David Hamilton spends £1,500 a year on clothes! But, according to "Diddy" David Hamilton, it pays off. He's now so busy that you just can't help seeing or hearing him on TV and radio some time during the day. The popular TV announcer, disc jockey, pantomime star, radio announcer and show compere is seen here surrounded by some new additions to his collection.

KEITH RIDES EASY...

When it comes to getting around London, pop star Keith Emerson prefers two wheels. Keith, recently voted Top Musician of the Year, is an avid motorcycle fan.

Take An Away ~ Day

Daily Mirror Books, in association with British Rail, have just published a new guide containing nearly 300 places to visit by train. How about this one...

IRONBRIDGE GORGE MUSEUM. Church Hill, Ironbridge, Telford (Telephone Ironbridge 5532). A unique series of industrial monuments spread over 3 miles of the Severn Valley. There is a furnace; an open air museum with steam engines and pit heads; the world's first iron bridge; a tar tunnel and a working pottery.

Open: 1st April to 31st October. Daily 10 am to 6.00 pm.
Admission: Adults 30p. Children 15p.
Bus service: Half-hourly from Wellington (Shropshire).

Awaydays is illustrated in colour and costs 35 pence. An extra bonus are the special vouchers to the value of £2, which allow reductions at several parks and museums. It looks like really good value and a very useful source of places to go.
