SPEND A DAY WITH DAVID CASSIDY

David's up bright and early. He has to be. Every day is a busy day for him. And every morning he has to make sure he's looking his best — hence the hairdryer and all those mirrors.

It's a hurried breakfast for David. He has no time to sit and linger over bacon and eggs. A sandwich eaten while he wanders around making sure everything's ready, that's all he has time for.

Once at the studio David has study the script with his director. David learns his lines whenever he can — in bed, while driving, or while he's relaxing playing his guitar.

Before he goes in front of the cameras David has to pin back his locks and let the make-up artist have a go at him. He doesn't look as if he enjoys it much, does he!

A look of concentration! David loves to play lots of sports but his favourite is billiards.

On set with his television family, the Partridges.

Clothes are important to David. His life is such a rush he has to have the right gear all the time. Here he visits his tailor to be fitted for a smart, new coat.

It's tiring work, being a superstar. David takes a well-deserved nap between shots. He doesn't often have time to relax so nobody could begrudge him this moment of peace. Wonder what he's dreaming about?

A large part of David's day is spent reading and answering his fan mail. He really loves getting letters from his fans. It helps him to keep in touch with you.

When he does have a few moments to spare David hot-foots it home — and usually ends up rolling about on the carpet with one of his greatest fans — his dog.

After a long and tiring day David is usually ready for bed as soon as work is over. But he still has to keep up with the news. And the only time he gets for reading is just before he falls asleep! Night, night, David!
