

It's David Cassidy!

If you were watching The Partridge Family on November 24, then you've probably recognized our "gangster" already as none other than David Cassidy!

In the episode, titled "Whatever Happened to Keith Partridge?", David takes a screen test for an important role in a gangster film. When he's notified that he's got the part, his family plans a surprise party for him!

No, this isn't a Partridge Family costume party—this is what David looked like while trying out for his gangster role!
