

JEFF BRIDGES

The 24-year-old son of actor, Lloyd Bridges, and kid brother of actor, Beau Bridges, has now established himself as an actor in his own right. He's proved himself to be versatile enough to play a wide range of roles, from the good-looking small town boy in "The Last Picture Show," to the up-and-coming boxer in "Fat City," to the young bandit who runs away from the Civil War Army in his latest movie, "Bad Company." He's certainly come a long way since he made his debut at age 8 in "Sea Hunt." Jeff plays the guitar proficiently and sings.

MIKE COLE

By the time you read this, Paula Kelly Cole will have already made Mike a happy father. After dating the pretty Paula for seven years, Mike decided to take "the big plunge" and married her early last year. Before his huge success in "The Mod Squad" Mike did a variety of odd jobs, including making pizzas and working in a bookstore. Now instead of looking for work, Mike reads favorable reviews on his memorable part as Pete Cochrane. The Coles make their home in the San Fernando Valley area—a far cry from Mike's lean years when the studio prop bed was his home.

JAMES BROLIN

When James Brolin starred in the film "Skyjacked," he came very close to his first chosen profession—an aeronautical engineer. It wasn't until James' third year of college that the handsome, 6'4", green-eyed guy switched his sights to acting. He still keeps flying high on his hobby list with skin diving, speedboating, motorcycling and surfing running a close second on favorites. On Oct. 16, 1966 James married Jane Cameron Agee and they have two small sons—Josh (born Feb. 12, 1968) and Jess (born Feb. 7, 1972). James likes the idea of keeping his brood's initials "J.B." Don't you agree?

BILL COSBY

Cosby and Culp have been close buddies since their days together on the Emmy-Award-winning series "I Spy." So it's no surprise that as soon as they got the opportunity to make a movie, they'd do it together. As a matter of fact, Culp even directed this venture, "Hickey and Boggs," and in it Cosby got the opportunity to show what a fabulous dramatic star he is in addition to being able to incorporate his own special brand of humor into the role. The 33-year-old star is married to his lovely wife Camille for 8 years and they have three children.

DAVID CASSIDY

Fans have been disappointed that David has been giving less and less concerts lately. In fact, David took a complete rest from the concert circuit from October to the beginning of 1973. He didn't do it to disappoint his fans—only because lately he's been working himself to death and decided that at 22½ years old he's still got a lot of living to do. Born on April 12, 1950 in New York City, David went west after an ill-fated Broadway show he was acting in collapsed after a handful of performances. Success came soon after.

SUSAN DEY

Susan Dey might just be blowing out the candles of her birthday cake—she's 20 as of December 10th—as you read this. But that'll be the only sweet she eats that day because svelte Sue is desperately trying to shed those 15 lbs. she gained on her summer vacation in Europe. The studio make-up man has been weighing her every day and Susan has been eating mostly raw vegetables at meals. The pretty, blue-eyed, brown-haired TV sister of David Cassidy has come a long way since she modelled during school vacations from Fox Lane High in Bedford, N.Y.
