

My Favorite Photos

Many of you write me during the year asking me all about my work, so we decided that in this year's Annual I'd take this section to answer some of your questions and to tell you some things about the stars I photograph.

Over the years I guess I've taken pictures of about everyone from the Beatles to the De-Francos. There's been lots of good times and lots of hard times, too. Taking pictures isn't always easy. Sometimes the stars don't want to pose and

Luckily, most of the time stars are cooperative and the work is fairly easy if you know how to handle your camera. On the following pages I've picked out some pictures which are my favorites. Hope you like my pictures and if you've got any other questions about photos or the stars, you can write me here at the magazine.
