

Tiger Beat's CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

Every time an actor or a singer makes it to the top there is always one sure way to tell--your letters! They pour into our offices by the sackful, begging for more information, asking for a personal address, or simply letting us know all the reasons why you believe that certain star is super!

But this is not the whole story. While the majority of the mail is complimentary, some of it isn't! Along with the raves come the other letters, ranging from mild criticism to an outright putdown now and then! We aren't talking about fans who are on hate-trips, but those who honestly feel that certain things about a star are not up to par, and they aren't afraid to express these opinions!

After a great deal of thought (and months of reading your letters!) the editors of TIGER BEAT ANNUAL finally came to a decision. We decided it would only be fair to print both sides of your faves as you see them!

Here, for the very first time, we're going to reveal the whole inside truth about the stars--for better and for worse--from your point of view!

DONNY OSMOND

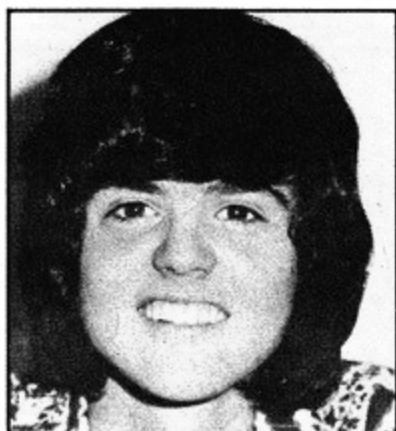

Due to a great deal of talent and hard work, the Osmond Brothers have had a long run of successful concerts and albums. The whole family enjoys this fresh-scrubbed fivesome, and the teens have chosen Donny as their special favorite.

FOR:

The "look" is definitely there, especially since he's let his dark hair get longer. A happy, uncomplicated guy, Donny's the boy a girl's mother would definitely approve of.

AGAINST:

Almost too good to be believed. If there is a different side to his eternally sweet personality, Donny isn't showing it, but it might make him a bit more interesting.

DAVID CASSIDY

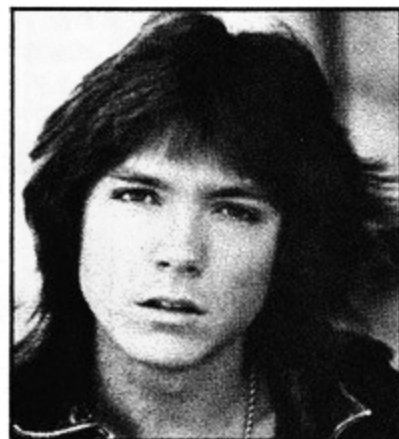

Some stage and TV acting before moving into a starring role on "The Partridge Family." His success on the show was instant--so were the concerts and albums that followed rapidly.

FOR:

A sad little boy look with dreamy eyes caught attention even before David began the series--the rest is history.

AGAINST:

Perhaps because his superstar status came upon him so quickly, David has never really known how to deal with his ardent fans. Even if the spotlight makes him uncomfortable, he should know that they are the ones who put him where he is today. He could learn a few things about graciousness from older and wiser stars--Bobby Sherman, for example.

MICHAEL GRAY

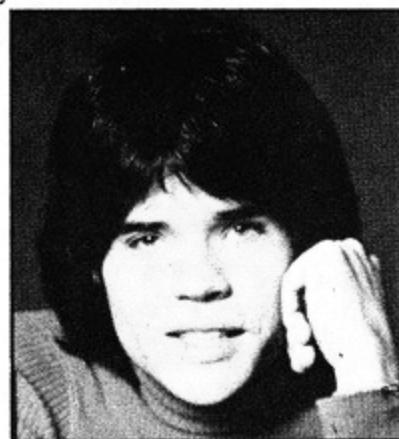

One of the featured players on TV's "The Little People."

FOR:

You name it, he's got it. Sensual dark eyes, romantic curving smile, a bronze athletic physique, even a soft, tender speaking voice.

AGAINST:

Absolutely nothing negative except perhaps you can't see him on TV often enough.

MITCH VOGEL

Part of the regular cast in "Bonanza" TV series. Formerly has done many appearances onstage and in movies and other TVers.

FOR:

Talented as an actor, is never a problem on the set. Has an outgoing personality that makes him impossible to dislike.

AGAINST:

It may be temporary, but he's not as cute as he used to be as a child actor.
