

TOP OF THE POPS!

I think it's absolutely fantastic that we've got a genuine goodlooker on the scene at last. Not that I think the other stars are ugly, but David Essex is so fantastic, he leaves everyone else behind! He's got loads of talent but it wouldn't matter if he hadn't, because I think most people are content just to sit and look at him! I've been to see 'That'll Be The Day' three times and I've got both 'Rock On' and 'Lamplight'. Please can you print his fan club address so I can write to him myself!

 LINES OF LOVE CAN BE
 PENNED TO DAVID C/O
 BOX 50, LONDON S.W.6.

When will David Cassidy get married—and who will be the very lucky girl to steal his heart? Interesting questions, but most of you are dreading hearing the answers. Inside there's a special feature—and we've even got a picture of David as a bridegroom!

Andy and David Williams, our super twins, are also inside this exciting issue. They're telling us lots of interesting things including their plans for 1974.

ROD'S A GOD!

I never really liked Rod Stewart much till I saw him live, but going to one of his concerts turned out to be the most fantastic night of my life. We were right in the front and Rod bent down and touched my hand! No one believes me, but it really happened. He was so brilliant and the whole band are just so good on stage. It's really awful being so crazy over someone and not being able to meet them. I get so fed up just wishing I could meet Rod personally. Still—where there's life, there's hope!

WOT'S ALL THIS THEN, DAVID?

I'd like to know what all the fuss is about! And by that, I mean all the publicity which is currently being showered over Mr. Cassidy. I mean, you can't open a mag these days without finding him grinning out at you from the centre pages. It's not that I don't like his sounds... I find them quite sad, actually, but I just

Rod, Marc, Jay, Alan and all your favourite people have got together to make this a New Year Pop Feast for you!

RAVE ON SPRINGFIELD

My friends and I would just like to say that we think Springfield Revival are one of the best groups around. Lots of people knock them because they're not freaky and don't go in for the glitter bit. But they can sing and they're true professionals. If The Osmonds rate them,

With very best wishes,
