

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 45

FRANCESCO SCAVULLO, the "In" photographer who amongst other things, is responsible for the famous BURT REYNOLDS in the buff photo, has come out and said he won't consider shooting pictures of ANN-MARGRET because she's not "his type"—his type being such trendy types as BERRY BERENSON and TONY PERKINS, JOE DALLE-SANDRO, BIANCA JAGGER, LULU DE LA FALAISE and TATUM O'NEAL. How could anyone say no to such a sweetheart as A-M? It boggles the mind, honestly!

Recognize short-haired Geo. Harrison from Beatles? New album soon?

Watch for DONNY OSMOND to start attracting "older women" in time to come. DONNY's "getting more and more grownup looking all the time, and we've heard more than We've heard that the hand-holding days for Julie Christie & Warren Beatty are in the past! Then why are they doing "Shampoo" pic together?

Paul LeMat is being hailed the new James Dean of movies. Paul of "American Graffiti" fame says, "Nope—there was & always will be only one James Dean!"

a few older gals (in their twenties, at least!) say they thought the teen idol was grrroooovy! They love ya, DONNY!

With LIZA with a "Z" long out of the picture, it looks like it's really Love with an "L" EDWARD ALBERT and KATE JACKSON (The Rookies). These two are growing more inseparable by the minute, though it's no secret that EDWARD was hard hit by the fading of his love life with LIZA.

Guess NEIL DIAMOND figures you're only as good as your last gig, 'cause instead of going back into his hermit-like lifestyle and semi-retirement, NEIL has agreed to come out with some more albums for Columbia. There's even talk of his going on tour! Actually, NEIL, we thought you were the best thing about Jonathan Livingston Seagull—even better than JAMES FRANCISCUS as Jonathan's "voice."

With The Three Musketeers, Britain's MICHAEL YORK is being discovered in a BIG way by American fans. Well, dears, MICHAEL is married, (unfortunately for everyone) but his beautiful wife Anne is very happy!

It's plain as the nose on her face that BETTE MIDLER isn't thrilled with the news that a flick she made way back when might be released soon. BETTE's manager/boyfriend Aaron Russo said the flick, The Divine Mr. J (which, as far as we can tell so far is a take-off on Jesus) is made like a "home movie" and was something BETTE got $250 for long ago when she was hurting for money. Now $250 is barely pin money for the Divine Miss Rich.

The dull, lank, limp and lifeless award of the month (any month) goes to DAVID CARRADINE. We rarely take anyone to task for their off-screen behavior, but we do think Hollywood stars should set some kind of example, like in the squeaky clean hair department. No wonder he wears that skullcap on Kung Fu!

Yes, RON HOWARD (of Happy Days) and CLINT HOWARD (The Cowboys) are real-life brothers. RON (who used to be called Ronnie when he was "Opie" on The Andy Griffith Show) is also real-life close friends with CHARLIE MARTIN SMITH, who co-stars with him in both American Graffiti and The Spikes Gang.

Another American Graffiti alumnus, PAUL LeMAT, has finished Bobby and Rose and headed up North—northern California, that is.

Fame is just around the corner for handsome Michael York. If "3 Musketeers" doesn't make him a star, there just ain't justice on earth!

PAUL lives up along the California coast, and he's a semi-professional boxer!

DAVID CASSIDY wasn't a bit happy when teen fans in Australia kept getting so excited over his live appearances that they started rioting! Quite a few young ladies were injured, much to DAVID's unhappiness. DAVID came back to the States for just a quick visit, then took off again, this time for a whistle-stop concert tour of the Far East.

If you recognize ANSON WILLIAMS from Happy Days maybe it's because he's appeared in scads of soft drink commercials. This is his first big break.

On that "happy" note, I shall sign off for this issue. We'll rap some more in the next Rap-Up—ok? Bye! •