

David: Leavin' 'On A Jet Plane?!

BIGGEST TOUR OF ITS KIND

David Cassidy's so thrilled these days, he can hardly believe it's all happening!!! Every hour brings a new opportunity to him. Right now, he's seriously considering an exciting World Tour '74 which would take him to every corner of the globe!!! Although the exact dates of all his concerts in this proposed tour are not known, his schedule would include countries like Australia, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Germany, Holland and France!!! And, he may play two dates in the United States, too, but right now these plans are not definite. Meanwhile, he's really looking forward to packing and flying and meeting his foreign fans and having a wonderful time!

But there are so many other opportunities opening up for David, that he's not sure now is the right time for the tour. He wants to make the right moves and he's being guided by the advice of his manager and close, personal friends who want only the best for David and his career. But, David's really quite enthusiastic about doing such a tour!

"It would be the biggest tour of its kind ever to be done, and I've been looking forward to touring for so long," David told FLIP recently. "It would really be great singing to people I've never met in lands I've never been to!!"

David's been wanting to go back on the road for a long time. When he finished up the last episode of "The Partridge Family" all he could think about was hitting the road again. He hadn't travelled in so long!

But before deciding, David thought it would be a good idea to zip off to his property in Hawaii to snatch a few days rest and relaxation. He's been working hard and he wanted to be in top form before making a decision on whether or not he should go on this wild and wonderful world tour. He did a little work on some of his older material from the new album and chances are he worked up some new surprises as well—no one really knows yet!

STILL UNDECIDED

The time off must have done him a lot of good, because David is animated and excited and full of talk about the show he's planning. "Everything about this show is going to be new," he said, "new concept, new back-up band, new material!" It will give David a chance to display some of the talent he's been unable to show till now! But whether or not he'll get to display it soon on a world tour remains to be seen.

Many of David's friends are agreed that a World Tour '74 would leave David feeling very happy and fulfilled and chock full of a million exciting stories to tell all the folks "back home"!!! But David still has to make the important decision. If everything works out, the tour will begin in March!
