Here are your favs to tell you about their craziest dream ever—what secrets do you think their dreams reveal about them??!

was a total blank—what a nightmare!”

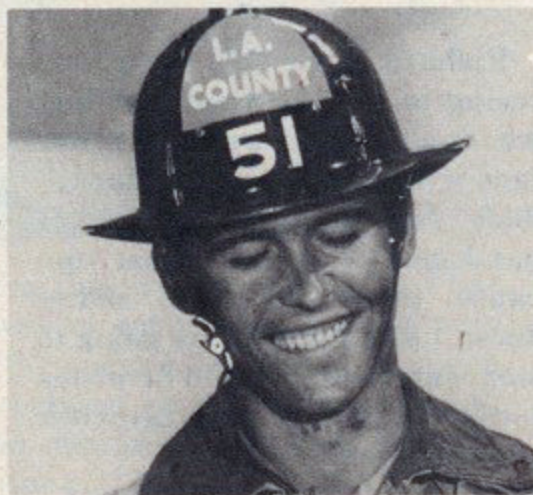

RICK SPRINGFIELD

“I dreamed that I was inside one of those really tall New York skyscrapers and someone I was with dared me to climb out the window and sit on the outside ledge with my feet hanging out hundreds of feet above the street! Well, for some bizarre reason I wasn’t scared at all and went right ahead and did just that! The view was fantastic! And when I got tired of sitting there I just took off like a bird and flew away!”

DONNY OSMOND

“Once I dreamed that I was invisible! Wherever I went, I would go up to people and say ‘hi’ and they’d look right through me wondering where the voice came from! For a while it was very frustrating, but then I started to like it. I could slip in everywhere without anybody seeing me and it

RANDY MANTOOTH

“I had a dream that I showed up on the set one morning and suddenly realized that I was totally unprepared! Not only didn’t I know any of my lines—I couldn’t even remember what episode we were supposed to be working on! I couldn’t understand how it could happen! No matter what I did everything

VINCE VAN PATTEN

“Only last week I dreamed that I was going up a staircase when all of a sudden each step grew eyes and noses and mouths and they started laughing at me! It was the most in-
