

DAVID'S "LAST HURRAH"!

It's never easy to quit, to end an important part of your life! But that's exactly what David Cassidy is doing! And he went 'round-the-world to do it . . .

You may have already heard about the terrible tragedy which David suffered in England . . . when, in the frantic crowds which responded to his final tour of Britain, one of his devoted young fans died during the excitement.

Even the comforting fact that the girl's parents publicly said that David was in no way to blame for the tragedy, their kindness and understanding didn't make it any easier for David to accept.

Soon after, it became clear that this 'round-the-world tour would be the final public appearances for the "old" David Cassidy. But that announcement had nothing whatever to do with the London tragedy!

David had decided . . . long before he left New York by jet to begin his sold-out-weeks-in-advance tour . . . to end the "Early David Cassidy" period of his life.

"No more television series, no more long-term contracts," David decided. "Now I'm going to do one thing at a time, with no pressures, no hassles. And I'm going to do it my way."

Which means, that sometime late this year or early next year, you're going to meet a "new" David Cassidy—and chances are that it's going to be the "real" David Cassidy—the one who's been waiting to step out from behind Keith Partridge's shadow.

What will the "real" David be like?

(1) You can expect him to win some "meaty" acting assignments, the kind which won him fame long before he became Keith Partridge.

(2) You can expect him to record some very special songs, written by some very special people — his song-writing friends and David himself.

(3) You can expect him to find unpredictable ways of staying in touch with you and his millions of fans.

So, David's "Last Hurrah" ended one chapter . . . and opened a brand-new one . . . and, right now, you know no more than David does . . . as soon as the new chapter's written, David promises, you'll be the first to know!
