

David C-Missing!!!

David was unbelievably happy to get back after being on the road in Europe and Australia for months. And, he was especially glad to be back after the tragedy which occurred in England at one of his concerts. He felt terrible about it, though of course, he could not have prevented the tragedy—it was not his fault . . . it was not anybody's fault.

When David landed at Los Angeles International Airport, he made an important decision: to rest and relax for as long as he felt he needed to. After years and years of being in the public spotlight, the time had come to figure out what he wanted to do with his life. He was determined to "take it easy" and not be pressured into making any decisions about his career or his future!

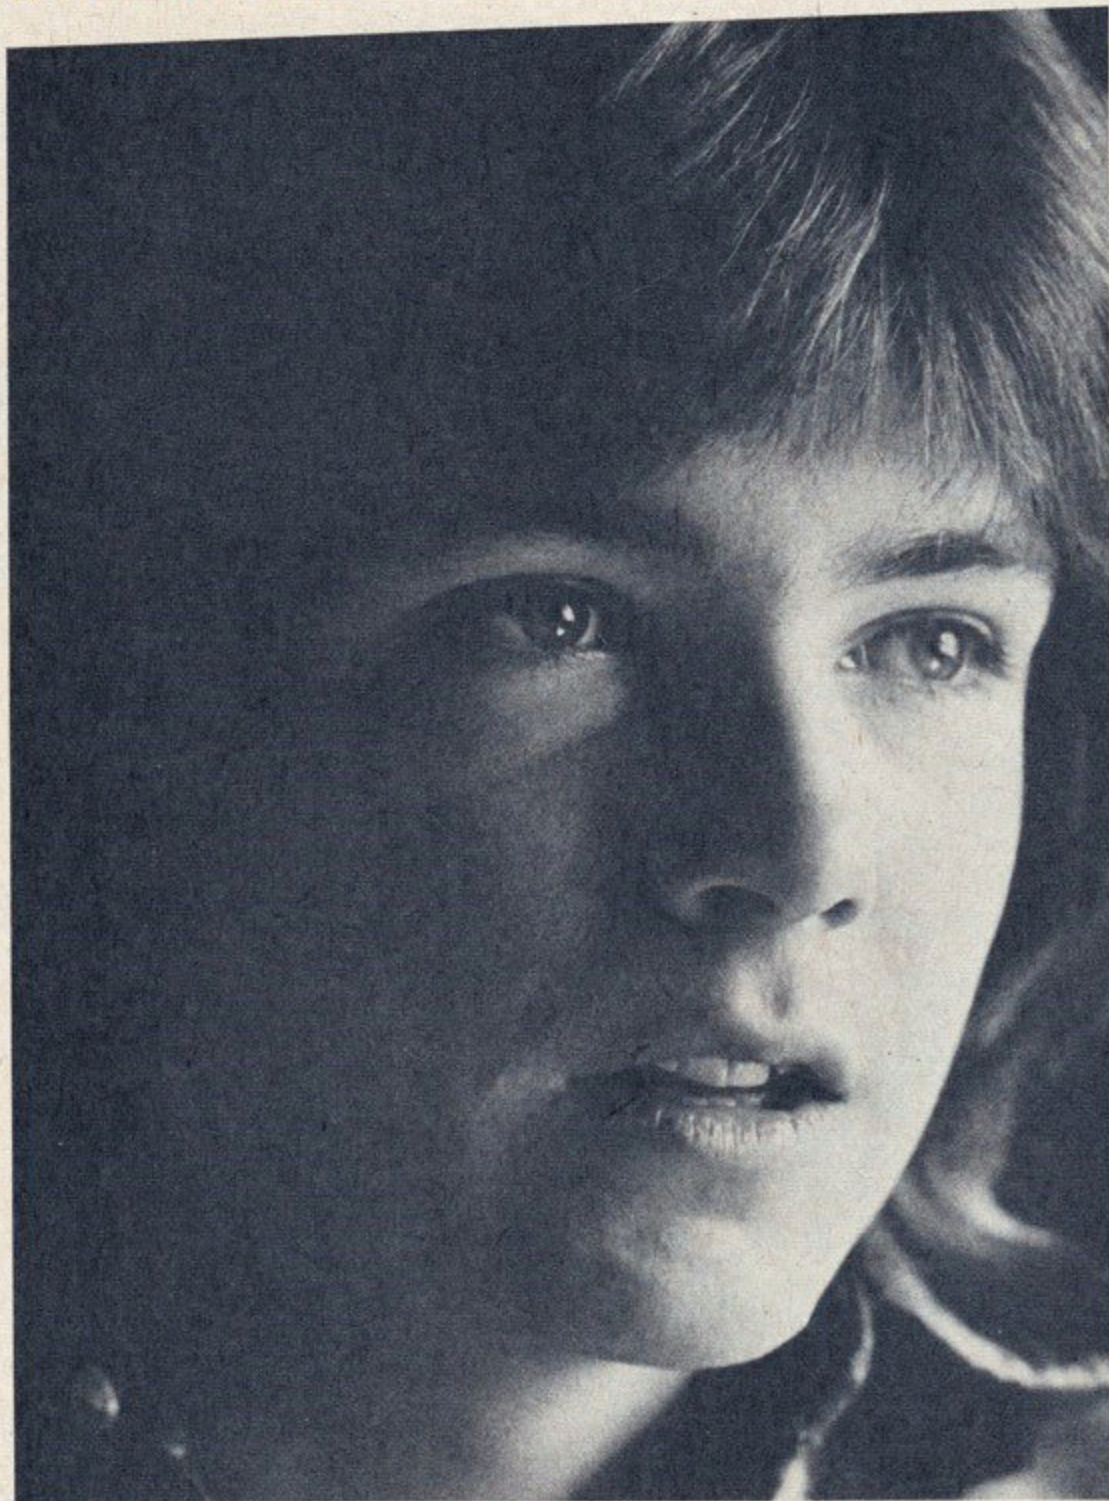

SUN & FUN

So David headed for his house in Hollywood to sit by the pool and get his first California sun-tan in years, catch up on his reading and just generally "loaf around!" And that's exactly what he's been doing for the past few months! David still sees his friends but he invites them over to his house instead of "going out on the town" with them. And he still plays baseball every Sunday morning with Alice Cooper and his other buddies.

HAWAIIAN HUT

As everybody knows by now, David loves Hawaii and owns land there. He's spent some time in his "hawaiian hut" during the past few months also and he's still talking about living there someday. In Hawaii, David is most at peace with himself and he's done lots of thinking about his career and future. Right now, David doesn't have a record company and whether he'll continue his music career full-time or not is not known by anyone in Hollywood—including David!

David Cassidy's been missing for approximately six months now! As a matter of fact, he's been missing ever since his terrifically successful European tour ended last Spring. Just where's he been all this time? And, how's his mood?! Here are the answers to your questions! . . .

He likes to work on new sounds at his home and he enjoys "jamming" with friends.

But David's in no hurry to decide about his future. He wants and needs time off to get himself together! Friends say that David's never looked better or seemed happier!!!

Undoubtedly that's why David's in no hurry to make any snap decisions—he intends to stay that way!
