

The crowd roars like crazy as the star of the home team – who else? – leaves his dressingroom for the match of the century.

DAVID MEETS GOLIATH

The whistle blows and straight away the ball is passed to him. Look at those rippling muscles, those legs of steel, that body coiled to spring

