

DAVID'S DREAM GIRL?

Even a super-star like David has his dreams about meeting one very special girl, a girl in a million perhaps, but a girl for always. Let David tell you in his own words what would make him choose YOU as the girl with whom he'd want to spend the rest of his life. There are so many things he can find to love in a girl. Are YOU the one with EVERYTHING?

You're sunny and bright and positive and, even when you're secretly depressed, you never let it show.

You're ultra-feminine and you love being a girl. When you speak, your voice is soft. When you laugh, there's a gentle ring about your laughter, not the harsh 'cackle' that so often goes with bad manners or lack of confidence.

You're kind and understanding and you make everyone feel a little bit special. That goes for ME in particular!

You don't wear too much make-up and you're fond of lovely flowing dresses for formal occasions. Even when you're wearing jeans and a sweater or tee-shirt there's an elegance about you because you stand up straight and don't slop around.

You're the kind of girl who likes to write little love notes and leave them in crazy places like the 'fridge or the bathroom cabinet for me to find.

You like my kind of food — salads with cheese in them and sea-food with shrimp or crab meat. And you're always ready to try something new for dinner.

You like my kind of music — good hard rock 'n roll. And you sing along with all the songs you like on the radio because it's your nature to be happy.

You're completely natural in public and never embarrassed, even when I ask the waiter in a restaurant to wrap up a bone for my dogs. I love my dogs, and I want you to love them too and treat them like your very own.

You know when to talk and when to just sit there with me looking pretty. Most of all, when I come home from the studios tired and sleepy, you pretend to be sleepy too, just to keep me company!

You've got the magic of 'green fingers'. You like to plant things and watch them grow, and you like to have flowers on your dressing table, even if it's only a few daisies in a glass of water.

When we go for a drive in my car, it doesn't worry you if I put the windows down and your hair blows all over the place. Mind you, I'd never do it if you'd just had your hair fixed for a special party!

You enjoy being YOU, a highly individual person. It doesn't bother you if a dress isn't what everyone else is wearing. Fashion, for you, is what suits you best.

You never stay angry for long after an argument — oh yes, all lovers have arguments — but you'd be the kind to kiss and make-up quickly because you know there's nothing worse than brooding over a quarrel.

You're tidy around the house, and I love neatness in a girl. You hang up your clothes when you change, and you polish your shoes before you go out, and you put on your nail varnish carefully. Did I tell you I hate blood-red nails or some of those other freaky colours that look so unnatural?

You're healthy and you really take care of your body. You like bicycle rides and exercising horses and country walks when you can get them.

You share my love of simple evenings at home when we just stay together playing Scrabble. You'd let me win, of course, even if you were better at it than I am! And when I switch on the telly, you like to curl into me and watch a travelogue of some far-off country so we can both pretend we're really there.

When I have to go away — as I often have to — and you can't come with me, you write such beautiful letters that I miss you more than ever.

You see, most of all, I love you because you're not afraid to tell me, over and over again, what I mean to you. And my letters would tell you the same sweet things!
