

To Appear In Dayton Concert

David Cassidy, teenaged star of the television series "The Partridge Family," will appear in concert Friday, May 14 at 8 p.m. at Dayton's Hara Arena.

His father is actor Jack Cassidy and his stepmother is Shirley Jones, a co-star in the TV series. In the role of Keith Partridge he is the lead singer and plays the guitar in the family's musical combo.

David Cassidy's first single record "I Think I Love You," sold more than 3 million copies, followed by the first "Partridge Family Album" which sold more than 1 million. The second single, "Doesn't Somebody Want To Be Wanted," topped the million sales mark four weeks after its release.
