

'Adventurers' plan Magic

March programming promises to incorporate some of the ideas suggested by members of the Pipers Hill Adventurers Club, ranging from magic on the ground to magic in the air.

A two-session program on magic will begin the activities on March 4 and 11. Ed Schumann, a master magician, and National President of the Society of American Magicians, will shed some light on the world of magic, and give Adventurers Club members a chance to try their hands at sleight-of-hand.

On March 5, Adventurers Club members will spend the afternoon at the Hudson River Museum in Yonkers, getting acquainted with "Sand, Sky and Spirits," an Indian exhibit including sand paintings, and Indian weaving.

Adventures in the Performing Arts takes the youngsters to Madison Square Garden on March 11 for a concert by David Cassidy of the Partridge Family, the ABC television program.

Other March events will include a two-hour visit in an American Airlines 747 airplane, and a visit to the Westchester County Airport facilities and the New York headquarters of the Air National Guard.

Now in its seventh month, Piper's Hill Adventurers Club has expanded the programs into new and exciting areas for its members. Further information may be obtained by phoning Pipers Hill Adventurers Club: 322-5488.
