

Cassidy Back In TV Role

Former teen idol David Cassidy, who starred earlier this season in a NBC-TV 'Police Story' drama as a young undercover officer, will portray a similar role in four one-hour dramas (as yet untitled) to be telecast on NBC during the 1978-79 season.

Cassidy's character will be patterned after his role of a rookie cop assigned to infiltrate a high school to smash a drug ring in "A Chance to Live," a two-hour "Police Story" telecast May 28.

Cassidy, 28, became an international teen-age phenomenon after co-starring for four years as Keith Partridge in 'The Partridge Family' series.
