

Cassidy: A new role to chew on

By RICHARD JOHNSON

Special to The Palm Beach Post

FINALLY, A FILM role that David Cassidy can sink his teeth into. The former teen heartthrob, who's 40 now, said he has been approached about portraying the debonair vampire Louis in the screen version of Ann Rice's cult novel, Interview With the Vampire.

The former Partridge Family member recently was celebrating the reincarnation of Creem magazine, which is back on the stands after two years in the crypt, at the Royalton Hotel.

Other revelers included Creem editor Marvin Scott Jarrett, Lisa Bonet, Keith Sweat and rock photographer Laura Levine.
