

DAVID CASSIDY

He had a successful run on Broadway in "Blood Brothers" and scored in Las Vegas with such revues as "At the Copa" and "The Rat Pack Is Back!" But let's be honest: The man could invent a time machine and he'd still be known as the quintessential '70s teen idol and the star of ABC's "The Partridge Family." The shag haircut may be gone, but after all these years, a good portion of the public still thinks they love him.
