

Actor Cassidy looking to downsize

One-time heartthrob David Cassidy, 65, is looking to downsize by selling his five-bedroom Fort Lauderdale, Fla., mansion.

The singer and former star of The Partridge Family television series and the father of two, is auctioning the waterfront home and all its furnishings Sept. 9 as part of bankruptcy and divorce proceedings.

“My soon-to-be ex-wife and I need to resolve our financial problems,” Cassidy told the Associated Press while leading a home tour last week.

Cassidy bought the house in 2001 for $1.1 million, and he estimates he spent about $1 million more in renovations.